New Gains Bring American Armies Nearer To Berlin

Mighty Russian Army Smashing Nearer To Vienna

Drives Across Austrian Border And Is Reported Less Than 30 Miles From Vienna

MOSCOW REPORTS HUGE DANZIG LOOT

By NATALIA RENE (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, March 31.—

Russia's mighty Third Ukrainian army, smashing across the Austrian border, drove to within a reported 30 miles of Vienna today and to within 150 miles of Trieste.

Meanwhile, thousands of Soviet troops were released for direct assaults on Berlin with the fall of Danzig, Baltic port and naval base at the northern end of the blazing 500-mile eastern front. More than 49,000 Germans were killed or captured with the city's fall.

Second Army Also Advances
Simultaneously, the Second Ukrainian army, in a smashing new offensive along a 40-mile southern flank, forced the Hron and Nitra rivers in a 31-mile drive along the Danube's northern bank toward Bratislava and Vienna.

These forces under Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky smashed to within 15 miles of Vienna.

PA NEWC Observes

Lent came to a close at noon today. Office was closed, and delivery mail was started by rural carriers. Also the day was pretty chilly, and a snowed.

Weather man seems to be a little confused today on just what kind of weather will greet the populace on Easter. Most forecasts indicate mild weather, cloudy overhead and possibility of some showers some time during the day.

Better beware! Tomorrow is the first of April as well as Easter Sunday.

Is March going out like a lamb or lion? And by the way, did March come in like a lamb or lion.

New Castle and Lawrence county churches will probably witness the record attendance of many months on Sunday. Special Easter services are arranged for most of the churches of the entire district.

Speaking in barely more than a whisper, George W. Handy of Buffalo, president of the National Abatement Council, revealed that national noise abatement week will be held from April 1 to May 5. He reported that the time for this year's anti-noise campaign was "Prescription for nerves. Stop needless noise. Fit, keep well, keep working."

Easter shoppers were ducking into stores and actually grabbing hold of posts along downtown streets at noon today, when gusts of high wind played havoc. Also in the same instance, several darted into the streets to chase their hats which were rolling along at a fairly rapid pace.

Violets are in bloom today in the yard of Mrs. Alfred Barnsley, West Laurel avenue.

Heavy Bombardment Of Ryukyu Islands Indicates Big Move

By CAPTAIN JOHN H. CRAIG (Written Especially For International News Service)

A tremendous campaign of sea and air bombardment of Japan's Ryukyu islands by American fleets, which have been joined recently by a powerful British task force, points with almost unerring certainty to an early attempt by U. S. amphibious divisions to wrench a foothold in this vitally important group from the forces of the Mikado.

For approximately ten days now, Uncle Sam's naval and air attacks have been building up with increasing power. On March 21-22 carrier-based planes from Admiral Marc Mitscher's task force carried on tremendous bombing attacks against units of the Japanese Navy in Nippon's inland sea. This was followed by bombing sweeps and heavy gun bombardments against a range of Japanese positions extending more than 1000 miles from the main islands of Japan to distant Formosa.

Move Of Great Importance Seen Obviously so tremendous a campaign.

Ryukyu Islands Bombed For Eight Consecutive Days

By JOSEPH A. BORS (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ADVANCED PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Guam, March 31.—Japanese installations in the Ryukyu Islands rocked today under the force of eight consecutive days of bombardment by powerful American surface units and carrier aircraft as a communication from Pacific fleet headquarters listed an additional 32 enemy planes destroyed in the continuing attack. The communication also reported that the American warships blasted four Japanese motor torpedo boats out of the water on Wednesday, indicating the enemy's meager surface strength in the face of the overwhelming power of undisclosed numbers of heavy units of the Pacific fleet.

Yalta Agreement Kept Secret From Senate Committee

Senator La Follette Says Special Senate Committee Not Given Facts On Voting Agreement

By WILLIAM S. NEAL (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Sen. La Follette (D., Wis.), disclosed today that the agreement made at Yalta on voting procedure had been kept secret from both a special foreign relations subcommittee and American delegates to the San Francisco conference.

The agreement, under which Russia and the United States each will seek three votes in the assembly of the proposed security organization, was revealed by the White House following publication of rumors of the secret pact.

Not Revealed To Senators
The revelation that there had been a secret agreement, which was revealed either to the subcommittee of eight senators of the foreign relations committee, which had believed it was being consulted, and which was not revealed even to members of the United States delegation, inevitably raised the question as to whether there were other secret agreements," said La Follette.

The special subcommittee of eight senators has been consulting with the state department for the last several years in private sessions. It was set up as a liaison between the senate, which must ratify treaties, and the administration. La Follette also declared that the voting agreement tends to destroy "the last hope of small nations" that they might be treated as equals in the security organization.

Fair And Warmer Easter Forecast

PITTSBURGH, March 31.—(INS)—The heavens will celebrate the Resurrection in western Pennsylvania, the weather bureau in Pittsburgh today believed.

Easter will be fair and warmer, with a possibility of showers late in the day. Showers today will cleanse the air for a bright sunrise on Christianity's greatest holy day. Weatherman W. S. Brotzman predicted.

Admiral Nimitz Reports On Recent Raids In Kyushu And Ryukyu Islands Area

EIGHTY-SEVEN PLANES ARE ALSO DESTROYED

By JOSEPH A. BORS (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ADVANCE PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Guam, March 31.—The destruction or damaging of 47 Jap ships in a blistering two-day attack by fast American carrier task forces "in and around Kyushu and the Ryukyu Islands March 28-29," was announced today by Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz.

In addition to the terrific toll of the already fast disappearing enemy shipping and war fleets, 87 Jap aircraft, including a glider, were destroyed in air combat or on the ground before the dazed enemy pilots could get them into the air.

A special midnight communiqué, Admiral Nimitz listed the following shipping, aircraft and ground installations destroyed or damaged:

Ships sunk:
One medium cargo ship.
Ten small cargo ships.
Four loggers.
One motor torpedo boat.
Probably sunk: Nine medium cargo ships; five small cargo ships.
Damaged: One destroyer escort.

Huge Air Raids Are Continued

LONDON, March 31.—(INS)—More than 1,300 American Flying Fortresses and Liberator bombers, escorted by 350 Mustang and Thunderbolt fighters today blasted German industrial and communications targets in the 47th day of the tremendous allied air war against the Nazi Reich.

The heavy four-motored bombers hit a synthetic oil plant at Zeitz, rail yards at Halle and rail yards and industrial targets at Brunswick and Brandenburg.

Strong forces of RAF Lancasters and Halifaxes escorted by Mustangs attacked the Blohm and Voss ship building yards at Hamburg.

War Nearing End German Leaders Now Admitting

LONDON, March 31.—(INS)—A Stockholm dispatch to the London Evening News reported today that the German high command had told Hitler that continuation of the war was impossible.

The dispatch quoted a report to the newspaper Tideningen which said the military leaders met with Hitler at his headquarters where a war council was held yesterday.

LONDON, March 31.—Nazi Propaganda Minister Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels was quoted by the London Evening News today as declaring that the war now is near an end.

LONDON, March 31.—Acknowledging the mounting plight of a doomed Nazi Germany, Hitler's own newspaper, the Volkischer Beobachter, admitted today that: "This is our greatest hour of trial in 2,000 years of history."

Swiss Reports Say Hitler Has New Headquarters

PARIS, March 31.—(INS)—Swiss reports reaching Paris today said that Adolf Hitler had established a new headquarters at Salzburg where a dramatic conference with military leaders was held Tuesday.

Hitler was said to have met with Field Marshal Albert Kesselring, Western Front commander, Field Marshal Walther Von Model and Propaganda Minister Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels.

The report said that Hitler rejected a proposal by Kesselring that the Germans surrender and start negotiations to prevent further useless German bloodshed. When Hitler turned down his advice, Kesselring is reported to have asked that he be relieved of his command.

City Prepares For Easter Observance

Not being skilled in the prognosis of weather we have no intention of saying definitely that Easter Sunday will be clear and warm, but the indications point to a day that will warrant the little woman putting on that new hat and gown.

Easter this year will be celebrated with mingled emotions. From most of the homes in the county there is a son at war or a near relative, and the thoughts of them can't help but creep into the thoughts of worshippers as they mark the Day of Resurrection.

The usual Easter baskets with chocolate eggs and bunnies will be largely missing this year for candy is rare. Flowers are scarce and if you haven't ordered that corsage yet, you're out of luck it seems.

Rail Targets In Austria Bombed

ALLIED FIGHTERS BLAST RAIL LINES IN NORTHEAST AND CENTRAL ITALY ALSO

ROME, March 31.—(INS)—All enemy rail lines in central and northeastern Italy were cut today, following yesterday's attacks by allied fighters and fighter-bombers which accounted for several more bridges, allied Mediterranean headquarters reported.

Rail targets in Austria were hit by heavy bombers, despite unfavorable weather while medium bombers of the allied tactical air force attacked rail bridges on the southern end of the Brenner Pass route and in the vicinity of Brescia.

Supply Dumps Hit
Night intruder bombers rounded out the day of assault on enemy communications, and added extra attacks on supply dumps in the Po valley.

Coastal aircraft blasted an ammunition dump on the gulf of Genoa and attacked rail yards in northwest Italy, while Balkan air bombs on enemy-occupied buildings, supply dumps and troop concentrations in northern Yugoslavia.

Two allied aircraft failed to return from 1,225 sorties.
One enemy plane was destroyed in combat.

Plunge Is Fatal To Manufacturer

PHILADELPHIA, March 31.—(INS)—A 50-year-old manufacturer fell to his death today from the window of his ninth-floor apartment in the Germantown section of Philadelphia.

He was identified as Bernard Wilmsen, Jr., head of a novelty-making firm which bears his name. Police said he had been under a physician's care for several months.

LONDON, March 31.—(INS)—More than 73,000 tons of bombs—new record in aerial warfare—were dropped on targets in Nazi Germany during March.

See Indications Nazis Convinced War Nearing End

Allied Forces All Along Western Front Reported As Forging Ahead

NEWS BLACKOUT OBSCURES FACTS

By JAMES L. KILGALLIN (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, March 31.—Armored columns of both the American First and Third armies closed in today on the vital rail and manufacturing center of Kassel in accelerated drives 180 miles from Berlin.

Allied forces all along the broken western front forged ahead amid indications that the Nazis now are convinced the war in Europe is near its end.

Hitler's propaganda minister, Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, according to the London Evening News, declared the war is near an end. The Stockholm newspaper Tidningen was quoted as reporting Hitler was told at a council of war yesterday that the German high command feels continuation of the war is impossible.

Patton's Sixth Armored Division, running mate of the Fourth, drove to within 10 miles of Kassel, now encompassed in a steel ring by converging Allied columns.

Seventh Army Moves Up
Lieut. Gen. Alexander M. Patch's Seventh Army, conqueror of the university city of Heidelberg, moved up 15 miles to points within 15 miles of Würzburg, guardian of the high-way to Nuremberg.

Report Also Heard That Hitler Is Told By Officers That War Has Been Lost

LONDON, March 31.—(INS)—Unconfirmed reports that Field Marshal Hermann Goering has committed suicide, Field Marshal Albert Kesselring being stripped of his rank and Adolf Hitler informed bluntly by the high command and Paul Joseph Goebbels that the war is over reached London today.

A flood of dispatches from neutral quarters relayed the reports based upon a gloomy council of Nazi and military leaders, allegedly held yesterday at Hitler's headquarters.

Stockholm messages to the London Evening News said that the high command frankly told Hitler at the session that any continuation of the war was impossible.

The Evening Star, in a Zurich dispatch, said that neither Kesselring nor Goering attended the meeting, which "the gloomiest atmosphere" prevailed. Even Hitler was said to have realized that he had played his last card and lost, while the general opinion of those attending was that the war would be over in three weeks.

Berlin circles were said to believe firmly that Goering has killed himself while Kesselring has been deprived of his rank.

The news also quoted Goebbels as admitting that the war at last is near an end.

Lubin Regime Demands Place At World Parley

NEW YORK, March 31.—(INS)—The Moscow radio, heard by CBS, today broadcast excerpts from Warsaw newspapers demanding that the Polish provisional government (the Lubin regime) be invited to the forthcoming United Nations conference in San Francisco.

The articles blamed the exile regime in London for intruding to keep an invitation from being issued to the provisional government, which has been recognized by Moscow.

The text of the broadcast follows: "Warsaw newspapers widely demand that the Polish provisional government should be represented at the San Francisco conference. They point out that among the 39 states invited are Turkey and Iraq, which declared war on Germany at the very last minute following the Crimea conference, and a number of American states which joined the camp of the Allied states without taking virtually any part in the war.

ed 17 Japanese planes shot down by carrier aircraft and ships' gunfire and an additional 15 destroyed on the ground, to add 32 more aircraft to the already huge Jap losses.

Fleet bombardments and carrier aircraft attacks were continued yesterday, the communiqué said, but made no mention of previous Japanese reports of American landings in the Kerama islands, some 15 miles west of Okinawa, main link in the Ryukyu chain.

The Ryukyus and nearby islands dominate Japanese shipping lanes between Formosa and the enemy homeland and the continuing presence of the American fleet, bolstered by powerful units of a British task force known to be operating in these waters, presaged a death blow at vital enemy communication lines.

in 48 miles of the Slovak capital and less than 80 miles of Vienna. The industrial center of Koernitz was seized by the Soviets.

Marshal Fedor Tolbukhin's Third Ukrainian army, driving across southwest Hungary along a 50-mile front, cleared the northwestern shores of Lake Balaton and smashed toward the Trieste gap leading to the Adriatic pathway to the northern Italian plains.

Over 3,000 Wiped Out

More than 3,000 Nazis were "wiped out" together with large numbers of tanks, guns and other military equipment in the 19-mile smash along the Zala river which cleared a number of towns despite heavy enemy counter-attacks.

As Soviet units blasted the enemy from Danzig, first battleground of this war, Berlin reported increased activity east of Berlin, where the fortress city of Kuestrin was reported abandoned by the Germans. In Danzig, where the Russians raised the national flag of the Polish state, Soviet tanks and infantrymen supported by artillery and air bombardment, drove through the city from south, west and north in fierce block-to-block fighting.

Tremendous Booty

The tremendous military booty seized by the Soviets in the Danzig fighting included 45 submarines, more than 300 locomotives, 6,675 railway cars, 140 tanks and self-propelled guns, 15 armored trains, and huge quantities of guns and munitions.

Moscow announced that Red army forces driving toward Vienna crossed the Austrian border south of the frontier town of Koenigs, captured Thursday. Soviet bombers blasted the city of Wiener Neustadt south-west of Vienna.

Other Red forces, meanwhile, continued the fight for the Silesian capital of Breslau, far behind Soviet lines, and threatened Berlin from positions along the Oder river.

SEE INDICATION NAZIS CONVINCED WAR NEAR END

the French First Army slammed across the Rhine at an undisclosed point along a ten-mile front despite fierce enemy resistance. The new drive was said to be "going well."

Crash Ruhr 'Back Door'

With Lt. Gen. Courtney Hodges' Third Armored Division at Paderborn crashing in the "back door" of the Ruhr and threatening to link up with the British and American forces fanning out across north of the Ruhr, five other U. S. armored divisions—two under Hodges, three under Patton—were rampaging around the area south and southeast of Paderborn, wrecking communications, routing the enemy and chalking up sweeping advances.

At the same time, General Patch's 12th Armored Division found a soft spot at Arnobach and broke loose to the east, crossing the Tauber river and advancing to within 15 miles of Wuerzburg.

The extent to which American armor is on the loose within the heart of Germany was seen likely to make it extremely difficult—if not impossible—for the Wehrmacht to establish a strong defensive line in the interior of the Reich.

An unsubstantiated Brussels radio report said units of the British Second and the American First Army linked forces near Paderborn, trapping three German armies.

American forces pushed north and northeast into the Ruhr in encircling drive to isolate the entire industrial area.

South of Kassel

Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army spearhead was last reported from the front 10 miles south of Kassel. Earlier accounts put Lieut. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' First Army within less than 12 miles of Kassel. Gen. Patton's men moved in on Kassel after a speedy new dash of 45 miles.

The Third's Fourth Armored Division, roaring east 23 miles, reached a point four miles southeast of Hersfeld, 32 miles southwest of Kassel.

Progress along the south of the Western Front was highlighted by the capture of the historic university city of Heidelberg by the U. S. Seventh Army.

An official announcement from Marshal Montgomery's headquarters disclosed that the bridgehead of the 21st Army group had been extended to a depth of 30 miles and a width of 25 miles.

Nazi Airforce Withdrawals

The German Air Force was said to be engaged in a general withdrawal from all airbases in western and central Germany.

Armored forces of the American First Army which entered Paderborn were last officially reported 60 miles from a junction with the British. A linkup would mean the complete encirclement of the Ruhr and its vital industries. Closing of the gap possibly would entrap tens of thousands of Germans.

Two other armored prongs swept northeastward, one prong striking close to Kassel and the other toward Hersfeld.

Headquarters reported "rapid progress" on all sectors of the Ruhr.

On Westphalian Plain

The British Second Army was reported in one front dispatch to have reached the Westphalian plain after scoring gains of up to 25 miles.

Heidelberg was cleared by the Seventh Army after the city had been encircled. The Americans met only small arms and rifle fire within the city.

Armored units rolling 11 miles northeast of Heidelberg trapped a German train in a tunnel and captured it.

Headquarters revealed that the Seventh Army in a final roundup of prisoners on the western side of the Rhine took the commander of the 719th German Infantry named Gaede. He was found hiding in a pillbox.

British forces east of Emmerich, at the Reich-Netherlands frontier, cleared Noerden, Anholt and Dierick. East of Bielefeld, Bielefeld and Dierick were completely in Allied hands. Substantial advances were made beyond these points.

South of the Lippe canal, Dorsten, Gladbeck, Bottrop and Hamm were declared captured officially.

Just before the beginning of the Civil War, aluminum sometimes sold for as high as $540 a pound.

YANKS INVADE NEGROS ISLAND IN PHILIPPINES

erators of Palay and Guimaras islands to the west.

The veteran American infantrymen swept across the ten-mile wide Guimaras strait onto the western shore of Negros with air and naval support and seized the town of Pulupandan and the Bago river bridge.

Advance Rapidly

From these quickly secured positions, the doughboys fanned out to the north and south to capture two more towns and the airstrip on the outskirts of Bacolod, capital city of Negros.

Fall of the capital was considered imminent in the light of Mac-

Arthur's disclosure that initial enemy opposing forces in that area were quickly brushed aside for a 14-mile gain.

The American column which moved southward from the landing beach gained 11 miles to liberate Pontevedra and also secured Santa Anita and made contact with guerrilla forces under command of Colonel Abcede.

On previously invaded Cebu island, just east of Negros, doughboys of the American division made new gains, smashing enemy resistance north of Guadalupe in fighting in the interior of the narrow island and liberating the towns of Mandana and Mando along the coast.

An excellent defense against fire is to keep a fire extinguisher near the kitchen door. Most kitchen blazes are small when they start, and if promptly controlled may be put out with little damage.

WOMAN'S CLUB WILL HEAR NOTED WRITER

"This Fascinating Game of Writing" is the "catchy" subject upon which Agnes Sligh Turnbull, noted author of several best sellers, will speak at Woman's club Monday afternoon, April 2, at 2:30 o'clock, in Highland U. P. church.

Born at New Alexandria, Pa., educated at Washington Seminary, (Washington, Pa.), Indiana Normal College (Indiana, Pa.), and Chicago University, Agnes Turnbull received right in our own state, training for what has become a most successful career.

Her books on Pennsylvania history, from early Indian tales up to the present time, show much research work for which people enlightened on these subjects are indebted. She does general character writing, religious, fiction, short stories and articles. Of such interest are they all that the local Public Library reports a scarcity on their bookshelves.

Critchlow Brothers Wed

Announcement is made today of the marriage of two sons of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Critchlow, R. D. 1, New Castle, both serving in the U. S. armed forces. They are Cpl. Charles Critchlow, USMC, at Norfolk navy yard, and Cpl. Floyd Critchlow of Keesler field, Biloxi, Miss.

On March 17, Miss Juanita Stone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Stone of Dayton, O., became the bride of Cpl. Charles Critchlow at a quiet afternoon ceremony performed at 4 o'clock. Vows were exchanged in the chapel of Norfolk navy yard with the presiding chaplain officiating. Mrs. Critchlow, a dancing instructor, is employed in the offices of the naval hospital at Norfolk. They have taken up residence at 2126 Columbia avenue, Portsmouth, Va.

March 23, Miss Ann Louise Trucci, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Trucci, West Pittsburg, Pa., was united in marriage to Cpl. Floyd Critchlow of Keesler field. The ceremony was also quietly celebrated with a justice of the peace at Guilford, Miss., officiating. The bride has returned to West Pittsburg where she is employed at Oliver Iron & Steel. She will remain here temporarily, pending her husband's transfer to Chicago, where she will join him.

Wed In New York

NEW YORK, March 31.—Miss Naomi Mae Atkinson, 19, of 842 Harrison street, New Castle, and Dean Edwin Fitzwater, 25, in the Navy, of Marietta, O., were issued a marriage license at the city clerk's office here Thursday. The couple said they would be married here immediately.

A native of St. Marys, W. Va., the bride-elect is the daughter of Benjamin H. and Lillian Vanouat Atkinson. Mr. Fitzwater was born in Marietta, the son of Eskey L. and Martha Jewell Fitzwater.

Shower and Dinner Party

Mrs. Marjorie Stenger Sanford and Mrs. Joan Louer Mansfield were the guests of honor at a combination shower and theater party held by Miss Lena Mae McConnell's USO group Thursday evening. Following dinner at a downtown restaurant the honorees were given a number of lovely gifts.

American Legion Auxiliary

American Legion auxiliary will meet Monday evening at eight o'clock at the Legion Home, North Jefferson street. A social time will follow the meeting.

SILVER ANNIVERSARY MR. AND MRS. HAGUE

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel E. Hague, West Moody avenue, were pleasantly surprised on Thursday evening at their residence, the occasion honoring their silver wedding anniversary. Hosts were members of the J.M.C. club.

The evening was spent informally by the group, various pastimes being enjoyed. At an appropriate hour the ladies of the club served a dainty lunch on a pretty table, arranged with spring flowers. A silver wedding gift was presented to the couple from the club, the presentation being made by John Gaston.

Mr. and Mrs. Hague were married on March 31, 1920, in the Central Presbyterian church, this city, with Rev. Francis Reese officiating. They have three sons, Robert, at home; William, in U. S. Army, and Donald, in U. S. Navy.

SILVER ANNIVERSARY RECEPTION PLANNED

On the occasion of her parents' twenty-fifth wedding anniversary, Tuesday, April 3, Mrs. William B. Boston will be hostess at an open house reception for Rev. and Mrs. R. J. Fredericks at their home, 1733 East Washington street.

Hours will be 2 to 4 in the afternoon and 7 to 10 in the evening. Rev. Fredericks is pastor of Calvary Gospel Tabernacle which he has served since it was built seven years ago. Prior to becoming pastor of Calvary Gospel Tabernacle, he was pastor of Calvary Presbyterian church.

Rev. and Mrs. Fredericks are the parents of six children. Pte. R. J. Fredericks, Jr., who is in Luxembourg, Mrs. William B. Boston (Evelyn), Pauline Fredericks, who is a student at John Davis Bible school, Merle, Donald and Robert. The Fredericks have made their home in New Castle for the past 14 years having come here from New Jersey.

1936 F. F. Club

Members of the 1936 F. F. club were entertained at a delightful luncheon Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. David Yoho, R. D. 5.

Games were a later diversion of the afternoon, with prizes being captured by Mrs. Walter Schweikert, Mrs. James Clure and Mrs. Leonard Thomas. Mrs. Frank Boya received the door prize.

Next meeting will be April 12 at the home of Mrs. Rose Alexander, 622 Lutton street.

Cadet 500 Club

Mrs. Ray McAuley of Milton street entertained members of the Cadet 500 club Thursday evening in her home.

Cards were in play, with Mrs. Harry Jennings capturing the prize for high score. Mrs. Merle Brennerman and Mrs. Robert Mackie assisted the hostess in serving a lunch.

Next meeting, April 12, will be at the home of Mrs. Harry Jennings of Neshamock avenue.

Century Club

Mrs. Catherine White, Garfield avenue, entertained Century club members in her home Thursday evening. Cards were in play, awards going to Mrs. Jennie Edmiston, Mrs. Frances Schell and Mrs. Nora Booth.

Special guest was Mrs. Dorothy Emery. Luncheon was served by the hostess.

BIRTHDAYS HONORED BY O. G. MEMBERSHIP

Honoring the birthday of Master Colin McConnell, one year old, and also the anniversary of William McKinley, members of the O. G. Card club entertained most informally Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock dinner in the home of Mrs. William McKinley, Willow Grove, as a medium of celebrating.

Special guests were Mrs. Edward King and Mrs. Laura LaRock. Attention was given to tables of 500 afterwards, prizes going to Mrs. Edward King and Mrs. Walter Smith.

As a departing gesture, the hostess served light refreshments at a late hour. Aiding was Mrs. LaRock.

In two weeks, Mrs. Walter Smith, West Washington street extension, will entertain.

HERSHEYS WILL SEW AT JAMESON HOSPITAL

Hershey auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church will be in charge of sewing at Jameson Memorial hospital on Wednesday morning, April 4, from 9 a. m. until noon in the hospital solarium.

Section E Meeting

Section E of the Y. L. B. class of the Third U. P. church, were received in the home of Anna Mehard, Morton street, Friday evening. Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Jennie Shaffer. Sewing was the pastime that ensued. In serving refreshments, the hostess was aided by Mrs. Fred Sturdevant. A special guest was Mrs. Bertha Higgins.

April 6, Mrs. Shaffer of Butler avenue, will entertain.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mrs. George Tribby of Warren avenue has returned from a visit in Pittsburgh.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Wick of Huron avenue were recent guests at the home of Mrs. W. P. Wick and Mrs. Marie Mellett of Hooker.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Green and children, of Auburn, Ind., arrived to spend the week-end with the former's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Al Madden, 408 Winter avenue.

Miss Florence Ryder, East street, and Freda Wackowski, Hanna street, are spending the Easter holidays in Baltimore, Md., with the former's sister, Sgt. Betty Ryder, of the WACS.

Word has been received of the birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Keener of Lenox City, Tenn., on March 17. Mrs. Keener is the former Miss Rose DiThomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. DiThomas of Center street.

Miss Phyllis Craft of Cleveland, O., is visiting over the Easter vacation with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Tribby of Warren avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Craft of Beckford street. Phyllis recently graduated from Cleveland high school and plans to enter a hospital as a student nurse.

Mrs. William D. Nelson, wife of Lieut. William D. Nelson of Ellington field, Houston, Tex., has arrived here for a visit with relatives and friends. While in New Castle, Mr. Nelson, now Evelyn Lockard, is the house guest of Mrs. Flora Davis, Croton avenue. She will join her husband in Texas within a few days.

Charles Krueger of Smithfield street, son of Mrs. Sarah Krueger and the late Charles Krueger, has been admitted to New Castle hospital for treatment. His mother is recuperating at the home of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth Krueger, 238 Smithfield street, following her discharge recently from New Castle hospital.

Twin sons were born Friday to Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Nutt of R. D. 3, Grove City, the fourth set of twins to be born at the hospital this month, setting a record which will be hard to beat for some time to come.

Three sets of twins arrived early in the month, being born within a period of nine days. The arrival of twins at any time at the hospital is a rather rare occasion, but to have four sets born during the period of one month is more than unusual.

Twin girls were born March 13 to Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Cooper of Ellwood City; twin sons, on March 6, to Mr. and Mrs. William Donaldson of 712 Carlisle street; and twin girls to Mr. and Mrs. Louis Rossi of R. D. 2, Ellwood City.

Margaret Henry Home Has Celebration For Easter And Birthday

Breaking up their celebration a little children of the Margaret Henry home honored the birthday of Mrs. Lida J. Green, matron of the home, with a dinner on Friday evening instead of on Easter. Mrs. Green's birthday.

A few former residents of the home and some friends of Mrs. Green were guests at the dinner. Small nests of eggs were on each table, while an extra table was laden with birthday gifts.

From 1 until 3 o'clock on Friday afternoon absolute silence was maintained in the home, as is the custom on each Good Friday. Easter dinner, with Easter baskets for each child, will be served on Sunday afternoon and prayers and special music have been arranged for both before and after dinner by Mrs. Green.

Another Easter custom which the children will observe tomorrow is the placing of flowers before the memorial to Miss Henry in front of the home.

When you oil your washing machine, do it according to directions, but take great care that not a drop of oil is spilled on any of the rubber parts. Oil will soften rubber. If any drops do get on the rubber, wipe them off immediately with soap and water, rinse well, and dry with soft cloth.

DON'T WORRY your way through problems!

GETTING YOURSELF "tied up in knots" only makes the problem worse, the solution harder to find. Far better is the relaxed approach. The next time you feel tense and worried, try taking a hot shower followed by a bracing cold one. You'll find yourself in a much better frame of mind to tackle those weighty problems. In fact, they won't seem half so serious!

P.S. One worry you don't have to cope with is the cost of water—it's one necessity you are still getting at low, prewar prices.

WASHINGTON CALLING

by MARQUIS CHILDS

U. S. Must Share In Feeding World's Millions

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Human behavior is sometimes unbelievably strange. Take for example the frame of mind in which we find ourselves today.

Delegations of statesmen from all over the world are about to get in solemn conclave at San Francisco. Judging from advance indications, they will agree on a security organization that will bind the member nations to send their arms and their men to keep the peace of the world.

We will agree, in other words, to send our most precious commodity. Yet today we grower suspiciously at the rest of the world and say, in effect, not one more pound of butter, not one more slice of bacon, not one more pound of flour. And that comes after we have sacrificed nearly a million young men already in a war for security.

Stumbling Blocks
This state of mind seems to me to be a fact of paramount importance. It is a stumbling block in the path of the peace planners, and it is such a big obstacle that it is hard to see how they can step over it.

People with empty stomachs are not very much interested in political ideas or ideals. And a great many people in Europe, to say nothing of other parts of the world, have empty stomachs. Millions literally millions!

I heard it put this way. If you are sick and Europe today is a sick continent—the doctor comes and writes a prescription for some medicine he believes will make you well. But the prescription has to be filled at the drug store. You can't eat the paper it is written on. Well, a little like that with the Dumbarton Oaks plan and amendments and improvements that will come out of the San Francisco conference. That is the political prescription. But the patient is suffering from prolonged malnutrition and he cannot eat a piece of paper.

Food Shortages Watched
We are, of course, not the only people reacting with a nervous kind of nationalism to this matter of food shortages. Everybody seems to be looking anxiously over his shoulder to see whether his neighbor has more on his plate than he has.

A headline in a London daily says, "U. S. meat rationing for the Brits." The Canadians can show that in 1944 we ate more meat per capita—that is, American citizens—than they ate in Canada. Now, with no meat rationing, they are ahead of us. But apparently, with more shipping space available so that shipments can go to England again, Canada will restore rationing.

It is all tied up in one package, this question of food supply. The Canadians tell me that at one time last year they wanted to ship live cattle into this country to be slaughtered here. Cattle grovers in the west didn't like that. Apparently their political pressure was sufficient to keep the Canadian livestock out.

So here we are looking jealously into each other's windows. Canada has a porter house steak for supper tonight. We haven't had a porter house steak on our table for five weeks; and therefore we are resentful and angry.

Dead End of Frustration
That, it seems to me, is a dead end of frustration. Coming at a time when hungry millions in Europe need the bare essentials, it can wreck the best laid plans of the great allies in San Francisco.

Why not look at it in another way? Why not ask ourselves whether it would not be possible to eat 10 per cent less during the next 12 months than we have been eating?

The first impulse is to say that this could make no difference when there are so many underfed. But 10 per cent off our total food supply would feed 13,000,000 people. Food for Europe, 25 per cent supplement to their present diet would mean the difference between lasting harm, both to bodies and minds, and well-being.

Therefore you can multiply 13,000,000 by four and you get 52,000,000. That covers all the important cities of liberated Europe; and the countryside in most instances is self-sufficient. Under that kind of approach, a problem that has seemed insoluble in its magnitude melts down to reasonable proportions.

Charity, you say, we can't go on feeding the world forever. But hunger produces decay and disintegration and eventually new revolutions and new wars. It is just possible that a little food spared now might save the young men of another generation.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

JOSEPH OF ARIMATHEA

Joseph was a rich man, a good man, and a just.

A follower of Jesus and a friendly man and kind.

And Joseph begged the body to return unto the dust.

And Pilate gave permission; to this gracious act resigned.

Joseph purchased linen as if it were for his own.

He bought a nearby sepulchre in which to lay his friend.

And then, against the entrance bade men to place a stone.

And seal it fast, forever, lest invaders should descend.

No more is told about him. Home he went, his service done.

But still he is remembered as a just and good.

Whose heart, like Him he followed, held some warmth for everyone.

And all that makes men brothers deeply felt and understood.

Sun sets tonight, 7:18; sun rises tomorrow, 6:49.

No doubt some birds would rather go to jail than work.

After a good dinner one can forgive anybody, even one's own relations.

Some parties are formal. At others you can wear your own clothes.

You have all heard the story of the thrifty Scot who always took his wife's false teeth with him when he left the house so she would not eat in-between meals. . . . but yesterday, when he left the house he called to his wife: "Good-by all, and dinna forget to tak' little Donald's glasses off when he isn't looking at anything."

It is axiomatic that the silent promise is usually fulfilled.

"Scrap the old and adopt the new" applies to the conduct of your business but not to your personal friendships.

The man who wants to marry a fortune should go widow shopping.

Many a man loses his best friend by marrying her.

"Men on southern chain gangs worked until they drop from exhaustion"—news note. Aren't the Japs brutal to their prisoners of war?

"After several years of exhaustive study, we have found that the future affects to a great degree, our conditions of today."—University Scientist. Perhaps its greatest effect is to be found in income tax and installment buying.

"If you want something done properly and quickly, find a busy executive."—Business Lecture. And to find a busy executive, hunt for one who curses the telephone.

"Most of us are in agreement on the subject that politics should be free from religion."—Church Annual. Particularly when it helps the other side win votes.

CONTROLLING BAD TEMPER

"I am rather quick tempered and at times 'fly off the handle' and I say things for which I am frequently sorry afterward. Can you suggest any way of overcoming this unfortunate habit?"

Answer: Quick tempers can be controlled, but their cure requires an abundance of will power and determination. It is worth the tremendous effort for you cannot achieve popularity while handicapped by a bad disposition.

When you are prone to be critical of others, "sit tight" for a few minutes until you get control of your self. On such occasions our first thoughts are destructive and should remain unsaid. Too many of us think that we are right and our opponents wrong. Too often we importuningly criticize others without giving them an opportunity to express their views. And too often some people rush to the telephone to report the children next door or the impudence of the elevator boy or the inefficiency of a shop girl.

Make it a rule to sleep upon such offenses before reporting them. The things we do in the heat of indignation or temper are the ones we later regret or that return to haunt us.

Question: I am to have some business cards made. Please guide me in this matter, as to size arrangement and wording.

Answer: Your business cards may or may not be larger than your personal cards. This fact is usually determined by the amount of wording placed on them. The title "Mr." is generally omitted from business cards but not necessarily so. The address should be in the lower right-hand corner and the telephone number is ordinarily inserted in the corner opposite. Your profession may be placed directly under your name. If you must place the name of your company in the center of the card, your name should then be placed in the lower left-hand corner and the telephone number in the upper left-hand corner, leaving the address, as stated, in the lower right-hand corner.

After The War Ends And The Government

WASHINGTON, March 31.—THE NAIVE idea that, with the end of the war in Europe (which no one now places later than July 1), the war agencies of the Government would regard themselves as able to get along with considerably less money in the fiscal year beginning on that date than in the one ending on June 30, received a jolt last week when the President submitted to Congress budgets for the war agencies, which had been deferred so as to give them time to further "evaluate war needs."

SOME, it is true, reduced their requests, but others asked for more, and the total reduction was much less than half what had been anticipated. It is interesting to note that the two agencies which, proportionately, propose the largest reductions are the two generally recognized as having done the best jobs—to wit: the Office of Censorship under Mr. Byron Price and the Office of Strategic Services under Maj. Gen. William J. Donovan. The latter has cut his appropriation from $56,000,000 in 1945 to $33,000,000 for 1946. And Mr. Price proposes a 25 per cent cut from $25,674,000 in 1945 to $19,100,000 for 1946, though the presence in this country of several hundred thousand German prisoners whose outgoing and incoming mail must be censored imposes an additional burden on the censor's office for an indefinite time.

BY CONTRAST, the Office of War Information finds itself able to reduce less than a million and a half from its large 1945 budget of $55,355,000. It is also noted that the case of the Coordinator of Inter-American Affairs, which must have $15,880,000 for the next fiscal year, which is only a million or so less than it had this year. Undoubtedly, there will be considerable reluctance in Congress to provide so much money for these two agencies and they both will be called upon to justify such small reductions. In the case of the Coordinator of Inter-American Affairs, its former head, Mr. Nelson Rockefeller, is now Assistant Secretary of State in charge of inter-American affairs. In view of this, there was every expectation that his old agency would seem an unnecessary and expensive duplication.

AS TO THE OWI and its request for $34,100,000, two questions are being asked: First, with the war in Europe over before this fiscal year ends, why should not the necessity for a large part of the OWI European services cease to exist? Mr. Elmer Davis, speaking from London, asserts the OWI will be needed after the war to "re-educate" the Germans by giving them "factual news." But that is what the State Department plans to do, and Mr. Davis admits there is a prospect the department will absorb some of OWI's "information activities." Second, conceding some justification for OWI propaganda in the Pacific theater, how can that justify so huge an appropriation? Third, if the State Department plans, as announced, to acquire the world with the American position and disseminate American news, what excuse remains for continued OWI operations in the European field? Fourth, if OWI continues next year on any such scale as $34,000,000 would seem to indicate, will it not overlap the publicity of the State Department to the confusion of both?

THERE MAY be adequate answers to these questions, but they are not generally known in Congress, and they, with others, are certain to be asked. In fact, before the debate on these appropriations is over, the whole question of the Government and the news is likely to be thrashed out. A London dispatch last week concerning the State Department's prospective absorption of the OWI said that this would be "part of a long-range plan to promote better understanding of this country abroad and a clearer comprehension of world affairs among Americans at home." It is Mr. Elmer Davis of the New York Times points out, this need, as he says, then the Government will both send out and bring in news. It is known that, as part of the Stettinius efficiency plans, the State Department is preparing to equip every American embassy and legation with a press agent or, if you choose, a public relations officer.

The wisdom of this may be questioned, but it isn't likely as important as this proposal to send out and bring in news.

THAT would practically put us into the same game of propaganda "news" which other governments have long played and which has never been favorably looked upon in this country. It would seem to infringe upon the field very well filled by private enterprise in the form of the American press associations, to say nothing of various individual newspapers. Up to now, Mr. James says, there has been general condemnation of Government dissemination of news, particularly in times of peace. Up to now our leaders and Government have regarded such news as "no-noed" and have held that the private collection and distribution of news by agencies and newspapers was much preferable. If now we are to abandon that position and, after the war, go into the business of officially handling the news in the way suggested, a very real battle will be raised. Certainly, Congress will want to have the whole idea explained lucidly, concretely and authoritatively. Congress certainly will want to know why, with the German war over and the Japs left to beat, the OWI thinks it has to have $54,000,000 to do its share. Even if the OWI were efficient and effective, it would seem too much.

Duke Of Windsor's Move Titled Courageous
Five Years In Bahamas Have Been Boreome
Windsors Plan To Return To France Soon

By HELEN ESSARY
(Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, March 31.—The Duke of Windsor shows wisdom and courage in his just-announced resignation as governor and commander-in-chief of the Bahamas.

France is the immediate destination of the former King Edward VIII of England and his American wife, the former Wallis Warfield Simpson.

Excellent move of the Windsors this. In France they will be closer to England and to the throne of the British Isles than they now are in Nassau, capital of the trifling Bahamas.

Nassau and the Bahamas are horrible spots—out of season, I don't know how the Windsors have stood their post there for five dreary, humid years.

In season when there is no war on, the Bahamas, Nassau especially, are idyllic and lush with American money and best dressed American personalities.

Between seasons, which means most of the year, the Bahamas are thick with heat and boredom, and the intrigue that boredom always finally breeds.

Nassau Place Of Exile
I was in Nassau a midsummer or two ago, when the crown was vainly and half-heartedly trying to find out who killed Sir Henry Oakes.

Then, even with the stir of the cautiously conducted murder trial to whip up the tropical static, the place was one of exile.

I grieved a little that a king of England, though he had stepped down from his throne and his responsibilities, should have been punished by such banishment.

Except for the half dozen members of his own governmental household, there were no associates then for Windsor and his duchess other than a few stiffly starched British provincials. The rest of the population of Nassau was composed of natives, in extraordinary proportion to the whites, and remittance men and women of some sort or other. Fabulous remittance men and women out of Somerset Maugham or Rudyard Kipling. They were waiting for the checks from relations who were willing to pay to keep them out of sight. Many of the natives were highly educated and intelligent.

The governorship of the Bahamas was an undignified role for the former ruler of the British empire. With his duchess, Edward did the best he could to keep alive and sane and at the same time to do his bit for the island and the empire.

Capital Visits Recalled
Whenever the Windsors came to Washington, they were eager to meet U. S. officials who might help the Bahamas. One of the few invitations they accepted on one trip here was to talk with a very small tea-time group I arranged. In the group were cabinet members and their wives, several tip-tops of tip-top government agencies, several leading members of Congress and important and useful newspaper people.

It was a pleasant afternoon. More than pleasant, it was charged with the sharp interest of the duke in the United States officials and the (Continued on Page Seven)

The World and the Mud Puddles

GEOGRAPHY LEARNED

A small town boy who up to the time of his induction into the Armed Forces had never been outside his home county, came back a few days ago from travels which had taken him to Africa, France and the British Isles. A limousine companion had been on duty in Iceland. Another had come back from the Pacific for hospitalization.

Maybe none of these lads had been very good in geography in their school days. Probably they weren't very greatly interested in it as an abstract study. Now they are filled up with geography acquired the hard way. Tunis is more than a colored segment on the map. Sicily is more than a mere spot in the Mediterranean. Italy, something besides a shape like a boot; London, Paris, Rome, Antwerp, the Channel are entities instead of names.

They not only saw places on these travels, they saw people—people of varied races and nationalities and customs. It used to be "Join the Navy and see the world," now the slogan includes the Army, the Marines, the Merchant Marine and the Air Corps. We are going to have a pretty cosmopolitan country when the millions of our boys come home.

The State Police Say:

Any member of the armed forces of the United States may operate a motor vehicle in Pennsylvania without the current year's operator's license while on furlough, or any other time while in such service, providing he or she held a valid license at the time of his or her entrance into such military service. Upon discharge from the armed services, reinstatement of operator's privileges will be made free of charge and without examination if the following conditions are met: (a) the applicant has been honorably discharged, (b) applicant is not physically or mentally incapacitated, (c) applicant held a valid operator's license for the year he or she entered military service, (d) application is made for reinstatement within 60 days of the date of applicant's honorable discharge, (e) applicant's previous operator's license has not been suspended or revoked.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Out in New York's Bronx, that thickly-populated section of the metropolis where the Bronx cheer originated and where there are many, many thousands of law-abiding citizens, the proprietor of a music shop has been fined $2.

Apparently he came run-in with the OPA or some other kind of a grudge. At any rate, on meatless Friday—meatless by order of his Highness Mayor Fiorello La Guardia—he played a phonograph record hour after hour, until it drove the neighbors crazy.

They called in the police and had him arrested.

The name of the song which he played was "One Meat Ball."

When the magistrate, who was on his way to a conference with Ambrose J. Haddock—imposed the fine, he remarked: "The least you could have done for your neighbors was to have played 'Three Little Fishes'."

I think the music shop proprietor's procedure would come under the general classification of "rubbing it in" and rubbing it in is never paid.

It is a perfectly natural human tendency to rub it in and both you and I have indulged in it. One of the most common forms of rubbing it in is the common "I told you so."

You have practiced it on your wife or your husband and I have done it, too.

It gives you such a slow of personal satisfaction, such a feeling of strength and power to feel stronger than the next person and yet, in most cases it is really an expression of your inferiority complex.

The other day I was sitting in the Danbury railroad station waiting for my train.

On the bench opposite me sat a very ordinary looking woman, age about thirty-five, weight about a hundred and seventy. With her was a little boy about four.

As kids will do he climbed all over the bench. She told him several times to stop but he didn't pay the slightest attention to her.

Finally he fell off the bench on the station floor and set up an awful howl.

She yanked him up and saying "I told you so," gave him a resounding whack on the bottom.

He stuck out his tongue at her and sat down. Proudly she smiled and then the train came in.

There you are. First she rubbed it in and then he rubbed it in by sticking out his tongue at her.

Both were satisfied and yet—Inferiority complex!

If a mother can't bring up a child without slapping it and slapping over its misfortune she isn't much of a mother.

And if he then sticks out his tongue at her that is simply the result of the bad example set by her.

One of the worst forms of rubbing it in is to take out your owners on your family and your friends and neighbors.

That's what the music-shop man did and that's why he got fined.

Only, as a rule it's more than $2. It's being disliked and shunned by everybody who knows you.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

BULLIES PLAGUED BY FEARS

The bully is a coward, as a rule. Sometimes he or she is undersized and underweight, sometimes oversized and overweight. If undersized, the bully may find it hard to defend himself in the rough-and-tumble with others of his age. If oversized, on his age, older children of his size may expect him to compete in physical contests with them. Then there's the child, regardless of his size or weight who, because of considerable earlier illness or too great protection by his parents, has missed the usual amount of play in the neighborhood. When he tries to compete he lacks skills and hardihood and is easily discouraged or intimidated. Seeing his response other children ridicule him or torment him in some other way, plugging his fears and insecurity.

There's the child with a crippled heart who looks strong but, properly, has been warned not to engage in vigorous physical play. Fears soon plague him, too. No less pathetic is the youngster whose mother, teacher or Sunday school teacher has taught him he must never fight, even in self-defense. Akin to him is the youngster who for years was told that certain other children of the neighborhood were not good enough to play with him, or the child who in his toddling or run-

Argentina Back In Good Graces Of Family Again

Argentina Back With American Nations Again After Being Ostracized

WASHINGTON, March 31.—(INS)—Argentina was taken back into the family of the American nations today.

At a special meeting of the Pan American Union governing board, a resolution was adopted approving a "satisfactory" settlement of the measures adopted by the Argentine government and opening the final act of the Mexico City Conference to the signature of Argentina.

The measures taken by the Argentine government included a declaration of war against the Axis March 28.

This and other anti-Axis measures put Argentina in line for signing the document which resulted from the recent Inter-American Conference in Mexico City.

Argentina was excluded from that conference, but by today's action she will join the other nations in approving the various measures taken in Mexico City, and will thus be in line for re-admission to the Pan-American family.

Argentina has been diplomatically ostracized since last summer at a time most of the other American republics withdrew their ambassadors from Buenos Aires.

GAS DIRECTOR RESIGNS
WASHINGTON, March 31.—(INS)—Deputy Petroleum Administrator Ralph K. Davies announced today the resignation of Henry M. Brown, southwestern states gas and gasoline director for the petroleum administration for war.

Davies, whose headquarters were in Houston, Tex., was on leave of absence as president of the Midland Gasoline Co. of Houston. The resignation is effective today.

Patrick Kelly Dies Not Owing Anybody

CHICAGO, March 31.—(INS)—Patrick Kelly, 82, a retired railroad detective did not believe in debts even in death.

Last fall he went to an undertaker's office and arranged for his funeral. He paid monthly installments on the agreement until yesterday when he placed the final $19 payment in an envelope and addressed it to the undertaker.

Later Kelly was found dead in his room. As there was no mark of violence on his body, it was not certain whether he took his own life after making funeral arrangements or whether he died of natural causes.

A note found near the body read: "Good-bye to every body. I can't stand the pain. I don't owe nothing to nobody anywhere."

Pfc. Theodore Zak Is Wounded Second Time

Pfc. Theodore Zak, Wampum Infantryman, has been wounded for the second time in Germany, according to information sent to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Zak of Wampum.

Previously awarded the Purple Heart, Pfc. Zak has now received the Oak Leaf Cluster to his medal, and has sent it home to his parents.

The infantryman has been in service since March, 1943, and overseas since April, 1944. He has three brothers also in service.

BIG COUNTRY CLUB TOOLHOUSE BURNS

MERCHANTVILLE, N. J., March 31.—(INS)—Damage was estimated at more than $15,000 today in a fire that destroyed the toolhouse of the Merchantville Country Club. The flames were fed by gasoline in the tanks of several tractors and power mowers, which were destroyed.

Campaign For Deshon Annex Is Well Under Way

Equipment Needed For Recreational Exercise At Army Hospital Annex Is Coming In

Chairman Walter G. Dietterle of the committee named by Commander Lee R. Hanna, of Perry S. Gaston Post, American Legion, to provide equipment badly needed for recreational work at Deshon Hospital Annex, stated today that the campaign is now well under way, and asks the citizens of New Castle to give their earnest support to the drive for old golf balls, used fishing tackle and boats.

There is hardly a home in New Castle that does not boast of at least one old golf ball. These do not need to be in playing condition, as those with bad covers can be sent back to the manufacturer and have a new cover put on. These are the kind of golf balls that are being sought, because it is necessary to turn in an old ball to secure a new one.

One member of the Legion post uncovered a dozen old balls in a drawer at his home during the spring house cleaning period, and immediately turned them in to the committee.

Fishing tackle, which the owner no longer has any use for, even though it is not in the best of shape, can be repaired by some of the wounded soldiers stationed at the hospital, and put in usable condition.

Boats are also sought for use at Cascade Park lake, which is but a short distance from the Annex.

So folks, look over your stock, and if you have any of these articles, notify Chairman Dietterle, or C. C. Sweeney and R. L. Boyd, members of the committee for the post.

The following local merchants are also cooperating, and will accept these articles to be turned over to the committee: Gerson's Jewelry, Haney's Furniture store, New Castle Dry Goods, Eckerd's Drug store, Ferrelman's Jewelry store, Reynolds, Summers & McCann, and the Sporting Goods store. A receptacle will be found at these places, where the articles can be left.

15TH ARMY AIR FORCE IN ITALY—T-Sgt. John D. Shallenberger, 20-year-old Ellwood City radio operator-gunner on a B-24 Liberator bomber, has been awarded the air medal for outstanding achievement during sustained aerial operations against the enemy.

Sgt. Shallenberger has been in service since May 7, 1943.

Says Russia Forced Issue

Roosevelt And Churchill Had To Agree On Compromise Voting Power For Soviet

WASHINGTON, March 31.—(INS)—The Army-Navy Journal said today that the U.S.-Soviet vote compromise in the world security organization was "forced upon" President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill because otherwise Russia would have "insisted upon 16 votes."

The weekly service magazine contended that had the Soviet Union not been assured of at least three votes in the general assembly of the proposed security organization, she would have held out for "one for each of the federated republics of the Soviet Union."

A block of 12 American, British and Russian votes in the assembly together with the votes of the states more or less under control of the British and Russian governments, would seem to insure big three control of the assembly, just as they have control of the security council, when any question arises involving the use of force against one of the big three, the journal said.

France, the magazine asserted under the heading "Service News and Gossip," is fully expected to "demand as many votes as the United States and Russia."

REPORT TRUCK AFIRE
Police headquarters reported today they had received a report from John Leonhardt, Jr., of the bottling work of the Union Brewery that at 5:15 a. m. today, a truck, parked on the company's lot was discovered afire. B. & O. Freight Wreck Ties Up Traffic Today

Engine And 26 Cars Derailed In Defiance, Ohio, Today, Is Report

DEFIANCE, O., March 31.—(INS)—An eastbound Baltimore & Ohio freight engine and 26 cars were derailed in downtown Defiance today, tying up traffic on both the B. & O. and the Wabash railroads.

Police said the B. & O. freight struck an automobile at a crossing near the point where the two railroads cross. The locomotive was derailed and 26 cars piled up behind it, disrupting traffic on both lines.

Railroad officials said it would be at least 48 hours before any traffic could be resumed. Damages were expected to total several thousand dollars.

The driver of the automobile, John Drees, of Defiance, had jumped from his car when it stalled on the crossing.

No one was hurt.

Savings Greater Than At Anytime

WASHINGTON, March 31.—(INS)—The Federal Reserve Board revealed today that the amount of money saved by individuals from last July to the beginning of this year has been greater than in any other period in the history of the United States.

In just six months, the board disclosed, individuals increased their savings accounts, checking deposits and cash on hand by ten billion dollars.

Three billion dollars of the increase came from checking accounts, it said, four billion from savings accounts and about three billion from currency in circulation.

What this means to the common man is that an increasingly tremendous buying power has been tied up and probably will be unleashed in the early postwar years, a reserve board official explained.

CAMPAIGN WILL CLOSE ON EASTER

Expect Record Attendance At Churches Of City And County On Sunday

Tomorrow, Easter Sunday, will be the closing Sunday of the eight weeks pre-Easter, increase campaign being sponsored by the County Sunday School Association, and the attendance in the participating Sunday schools will doubtless be the highest of the campaign, perhaps of the entire year. The morning worship service will also be largely attended, as the good attendance of the previous seven Sundays will reach its climax.

During past campaigns of a similar nature the weather conditions on the Sundays during the campaign have in many cases, been most unfavorable. This year the weather has been generally good, which has been reflected in better attendance. For instance, the seven Sundays preceding Easter in 1944 the total points accumulated by the 22 participating Sunday schools of New Castle was 3,855. This year, 1945, the total points accumulated by the same Sunday schools for the same seven weeks, total 5,619—a gain of 1,764 points this year over last year.

The four goals of the campaign have been an increase in evangelism, an increase in Sunday school attendance, an increase in church attendance and an increase in Bible study. These goals have been stressed by the participating Sunday schools and inter-class and inter-department competition has been stimulated which is largely responsible for the splendid results many of the Sunday schools have gained.

The winners will be given recognition at the annual county Sunday school convention to be held in New Castle Thursday, June 14.

Baptist Choir Program Sunday

Choir of the First Baptist church will present a varied program of Easter music at the Sunday night service at 7:45. The program will include solos and recitations from "The Crucifixion" by Stainer and chorus numbers and solos from "The Mystery of Easter" by Rogers. The program also includes quartet and trio selections.

Soloists will include Clare Luz, William Harris and Mrs. Harry Remley.

The choir is directed by David Marshall Jones. Mrs. W. H. Lull-art is the organist.

Ministerial Hour Broadcast Sunday

The Rev. Thomas J. Jones, of the First Congregational church will be in charge of the Ministerial Hour broadcast over WKST on Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Assisting will be the church chorus directed by Griffith Thomas with Miss Betty Fowler at the piano. Rev. Jones will have as the theme of his address, "Could the Christian Religion be Accounted for on the Basis of a Tradition?"

ITALIAN METHODIST EASTER SERVICES

Easter will be observed at the Italian Methodist church in all the services of worship.

At the 11 o'clock service Easter morning exercises and songs will be rendered by the children and a pageant "The Easter Pilgrims," directed by Mrs. P. P. Sulmonetti, will be presented by young people of the Sunday school. Special Easter anthems will be sung by the choir with Earl W. Sulmonetti as the violinist.

PHILADELPHIA MAN WILL BE SPEAKER

Rev. Paul D. Raycroft, convention evangelist for the Pennsylvania Baptists, will be the speaker tonight at 8 p. m. during the youth crusade and broadcast "This Is Life" which meets each week in the auditorium of the Y. W. C. A. on the Diamond.

The ladies ensemble under the direction of Miss Virginia Roberts have arranged a special Easter musicale which will be presented during the evening. Ray Bates will be the program leader.

Bethany Lutheran Easter Services

Festival of the Resurrection of Our Lord will be commemorated at Bethany Lutheran church on Sunday beginning with the service of Matins at 6:30 a. m.

The church school will have a joint session at 9:30 a. m. when the children's dept. of the school will present a short Easter program.

Celebration of the Holy Communion will begin at the usual hour, 10:45 a. m. when Rev. Louis G. Golder, the pastor, will preach on the theme, "I Am Still With Thee."

Highland Church Easter Observance

At Highland U. P. church at Easter morning service the adult choir and girls choruses of the church will join in singing excerpts from "The Holy City" by A. R. Gaul. Evening service at Highland church will be a hymn sing.

Young people of the church will join in the Easter sunrise service at the First U. P. church at 6:30 a. m.

M. M. P. M. SUNRISE SERVICE
An Easter Sunrise service beginning at 6:00 a. m. will be conducted at Maitland Memorial church. The service is sponsored by the Young People's society and will be in charge of Miss Lois Blair. All present will be given an opportunity of participating in the service.

State Department Is Embarrassed

Stirring With Resentment Against Decisions At The "Top Level" On Agreements

By LEON PEARSON (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 31.—The state department is stirring with a spirit of resentment today against decisions at the "top level" meaning the White House—which embarrassed the department in its conduct of foreign affairs.

This is a reaction to the disclosure that a secret agreement had been reached at Yalta to give Russia and the United States three votes each on the assembly of the new security organization.

The revelation came as a surprise to most state department officials. In view of the wave of adverse public reaction to this new big-power claim these officials did not hesitate to say privately that they were both surprised and disappointed when the agreement was announced Thursday by the White House.

Known Only To Stettinius It was pointed out that the secret agreement was known in the state department only by Secretary Stettinius, who attended the Yalta conference, and one or two officials at sub-cabinet level, including Undersecretary Joseph C. McGrew and Assistant Secretary James C. Dunn.

Though he was informed from the beginning, it is believed that Stettinius was opposed to keeping the agreement secret. He anticipated the unfavorable public reaction which has now developed and advocated release of the story with the original Yalta communiqué.

Stettinius was clearly nettled when pressed by reporters for an explanation of why the Dumbarton Oaks plan had been scrapped in this respect.

Pvt. L. Gregorich Rests After Sauer Bridgehead Fight

WITH THE 76TH INFANTRY DIVISION INSIDE THE SIEGFRIED LINE—Pvt. Lewis M. Gregorich, Bessemer, is one of the hundreds of men in an epic crossing of the Sauer river at Echternach. His was the first platoon to cross the swollen river and take one of the pillboxes which made up the fortifications of the Siegfried line.

Greeted by a hail of fire on the German side of the river, he and 24 others fought their way up the slippery sides of the hill, accounting for their first pillbox half-way up. Their third and last pillbox was taken by a volunteer bazooka team of which Pvt. Gregorich was a member. The bag here was 62 uninjured Germans.

Crossing the hill, the men dug in and waited until the Nazi counter-attack came during the afternoon. Three tanks came at the small group of men—the first German tanks they had seen. A Chicago man waited until they were close, then jumped up on one and dropped in a hand grenade that killed all the Germans inside. Artillery drove the others away.

Pvt. Gregorich was for days in a foxhole partly filled with water, sleeping only eight hours during the whole time. The men drank muddy water purified with Halazone tablets and at broken bits of "K" rations.

Master's Voice May Save Life Of Dog

NEW YORK, March 31.—(INS)—A photograph record carrying his master's voice was on a plane flying south to comfort Jackie, a prize-winning English bulldog incurably ill in a veterinarian's hospital in Atlanta, Ga.

The record, sent by air mail, was made by Richard H. Cundiff, 18, a trainee at the United States Maritime Service Station at Sheepshead Bay, to whom the dog has been a constant companion for 10 years. Dick's voice told his pet:

"Hi a Jackie, hi a Jackie. Be good till I get back, Jackie girl."

HEIDELBERG

Heidelberg, ancient university city sprawling along the south bank of the Neckar river, has been famous for generations for its beer stubes, students and duels. It fell to the American Seventh Army yesterday.

A mecca for tourists in pre-war days, it has a rich history dating back to 1385 when the Elector Rupert I founded the university.

Recognized as one of the world's leading educational plants, the university was the alma mater of many of Germany's generals and other army career men, particularly of the Prussian caste.

In the years that preceded Hitler, the city's rathskellers resounded almost nightly to the chatter and song of proud young men. Insults or anything that impugned the honor of a Heidelberg man traditionally was settled by sword or pistol, and many a man carried scars for life as a result.

The town itself consists practically of one long, narrow street, the Hauptstrasse—running parallel to the Neckar river. It is an important railway center, and is connected by trunk lines with Frankfurt, Mannheim, Karlsruhe, Spire and Wurzburg.

Heidelberg castle stands like an imposing sentinel on the east end of the town, on a 330-foot cliff overlooking the river. Begun in the 13th Century, it is one of the chief monuments of Germany, and in its cellar is the famous vat built in 1751.

The vat, used only occasionally, is 20 feet high and 31 feet long, with an overall capacity of 49,000 gallons.

Attend Funeral Of Dr. George Cribbs In Alliance, Ohio

New Castle relatives of Dr. George A. Cribbs former New Castle resident who has been professor of history at Mount Union college for the past 29 years, have returned home after attending the late professor's funeral in Alliance, Ohio, on Thursday afternoon.

The 58-year old professor died Monday afternoon after an illness of one day. He was active in campus leadership up to the last, meeting his classes as usual on the Friday before his death. Born near Grove City, he was graduated from Grove City college in 1911, received his Master's degree from Chicago in 1916, and his Ph. D. from Pittsburgh in 1928. Friends and colleagues of the late professor joined in paying tribute to his life and work.

Lt. Wylie H. Shira Helps Lay Out Route To Yalta Conference

Local Officer Piloted Planes For President's Party Over 2,698-Mile Airline

(Special To The News)

ATC AIR BASE, Cairo—First Lt. Wylie H. Shira, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Wylie H. Shira, R. D. 3, New Castle, Pa., was a member of the Air Transport Command cadre which established the 2,698-mile air line to fly the President of the United States and his party to the Crimea conference at Yalta.

The air line, one of the fastest developed in aeronautical history, was operating one week after the original surveying party left from North African division headquarters to map the uncharted 2,698-mile course—equivalent in size to an air line stretching from Los Angeles to Pittsburgh.

Brig. Gen. James S. Stowell, commanding general of the North African division, terms the operation, "the most difficult air transport operation ever undertaken."

Confronted by numerous hazards, the air line had to operate without incident. In transporting the heads of governments to a conference which might shape the destiny of the world for generations to come, there was no margin for error. One week after the original survey the cadre had established five air bases along the route.

Lt. Shira was assigned as pilot to fly passengers and supplies along the route from Casablanca to Saki, nearest air base to Yalta.

Ottaviano Killed By Robot Bomb Blast

Nicholas Ottaviano Buried In Military Cemetery At Margraten, Holland, Parents Informed

Pfc. Nicholas Ottaviano, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Ottaviano of 663 Superior street, met his death when a robot bomb landed in the vicinity of his battery position in Germany, according to a letter received from his commanding officer, Capt. Howard K. Agger, who expressed his deep sympathy to the parents.

In part the letter stated: "Nick had been with us but a very short time and had made many friends. Most of us knew and liked him very much, both as a man and a soldier. He was always willing to do his part and his job."

"On the night of February 13, 1945, a robot bomb landed in the vicinity of the battery position, killing Nick instantly. He was buried with full military honors in the military cemetery at Margraten, Holland. A Catholic priest administered the last rites of the church and presided at the final services. Nick was fortunate in that he had attended mass and received holy communion a short time prior to the action. This, I am sure, will ease your mind considerably."

"Words are insufficient to sustain your loss, however. Please accept this letter with our deepest sympathy."

Soldier Nephew Is Killed In Action

Pfc. Woodson McFarland, Formerly This City, Loses Life In Germany

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Collins of 411 Epworth street received word Friday morning that their nephew, Pfc. Woodson McFarland, attached to the medical corps, was killed in action in Germany on March 18.

Pfc. McFarland is survived by his wife Marjorie and 18 months old son, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McFarland of Warren, O., formerly of Mainland street, this city, and two brothers, Charles and Warren serving with the armed forces overseas. Woodson was a nephew of Mrs. McFarland, 1214 South Mill street, who has seven sons in the armed service.

Airman Grandson Wounded In Italy

Capt. George H. Andrews, Former Resident, Of Bombing Group Again Wounded

Mrs. Joseph Weiss of 112½ South Walnut street has received word that her grandson, Capt. George H. Andrews, has been recently wounded in action in Italy. He is attached to the 450th bombing group H.

Capt. Andrews has been previously wounded several times. His mother, who resides in Pittsburgh, received his Purple Heart decoration a few days ago. He has been overseas over a year.

Before enlisting in the service, Capt. Andrews was employed as an engineer by the Carnegie-Illinois company in Pittsburgh. He is a grandson of Frank P. Andrews of 121 North Crawford avenue.

Chemical Plant Is Damaged By Fire

SERGEANT, Pa., March 31.—(INS)—Work crews today began to salvage machinery and equipment at the Otto Chemical plant where production of vital chemicals was halted by a fire of undetermined origin.

W. L. Heim, company executive, stated that it will take several days to estimate the damage and listed the buildings as a total loss.

Heim said that work rebuilding the Sergeant plant would get underway immediately but that the date of resuming operation depends upon the availability of labor and materials.

FLAVOR

Flavor seems to include both taste and smell. When food has a pleasing flavor it helps the appetite and seems to increase the digestive juices.

Skillful cooking can greatly improve the flavor of food. Some foods have a better flavor when raw. It is hard to preserve their flavor when cooked. By adding other flavors sometimes the result is satisfactory.

Flavor seems to be a question of training too. Certain nations or communities like flavors which are distasteful or unknown elsewhere.

Some food foods which are very nutritious but have no special flavor can be fixed up to taste fine. Flavors help us to eat enough food. They help us get our 2500 calories divided up properly among protein, sugar and fat with vitamins for good measure.

Police Seeking Assailant Of Center St. Man

Floyd Lewis, colored, 20 Center street, was knocked unconscious at 9:30 p. m. Friday at Jefferson and Lawrence street by a soldier who leaped from an auto, according to a report at police headquarters. The blow rendered Lewis unconscious and cut his lip. He was removed in an ambulance to the Jameson Memorial hospital where his condition later was reported as not serious.

According to the victim the soldier drove into the Amoco gas station in such a manner that Lewis, who was walking on the sidewalk, asked: "Don't you have a horn?" The soldier got out of the car and delivered the punch, it was alleged.

Police today telegraphed the bureau of motor vehicles at Harrisburg to establish the identity of the car owner, the license having been learned by police.

Sorry . . . NO STEAK TODAY
The butcher's explanations might sound somewhat "lame"—IF you did not know how hard he is trying and the difficult position today's restrictions place him in.
But you do realize that more people are demanding more meat, while there is less of it to be had. You know this because the facts have been given wide publicity. So you say "He's really doing a wonderful job—under the circumstances."
Even though your cleaner's problems have not been given equal publicity, you surely know of your cleaner's difficulties—shortage of help—and unprecedented demands for service. Your cleaner too is doing his best—and . . . a wonderful job—UNDER THE CIRCUMSTANCES.

Red Cross Nurses Aides View Film

Education Film On Surgery Is Shown At Jameson Hospital
Nurses Home

Red Cross nurses aides of Jameson Memorial hospital met Friday evening at the hospital nurses home for a program, business meeting and social time.

An assembly of 75, including nurses aides, student nurses of the hospital and several special guests saw, as the highlight of the evening, an educational film, "Anatomy of the Chest and Abdominal Viscera". The film, which ran for more than two hours, is one sponsored by a college of surgery, and showed some dissection and various types of surgery.

Miss Pauline Buchel, nursing arts instructor, showed the film. Mrs. Grace Feyer and Miss Irene Uby were the program chairmen. Mrs. L. E. Cramer presided during business. Special guests included Mrs. Harry Barkby and other members of the Red Cross nurses aide committee. Miss Prudence Appelmann, superintendent of nurses, and Mrs. Mary Horchler of the nursing office. Both the latter gave short talks.

Refreshments were served with Mrs. J. R. Snyder as chairman of the committee in charge.

On Wednesday, April 4, at 7:30 another educational film will be viewed by the nurses of the hos-

Women Voters League Meets

League Of Women Voters Hears Reports At Meeting At Y.W.C.A.; Theme, 'Education'

League of Women Voters met at the Y. W. C. A. on Thursday afternoon for a stimulating discussion meeting with reports. Mrs. Kenneth H. Beck presided. "Education" was the theme.

Mrs. Lyle Hughes reported on the Pennsylvania Assembly with particular attention to bills concerning education measures. Over 100 bills have been introduced into the state legislature, she said, at this session.

Report of the nominating committee for the league was given by Mrs. R. M. Patterson. Election of officers will be carried out at the April 28 meeting.

Mrs. Sylvia Stauder told of the work being done by the Tuberculosis society. The patch test was taken by more than 900 students at Senior High school, she reported.

A report on Congress was given by Miss Margaret Uhl, on the labor situation by Mrs. Raymond Williams, on the food situation and rationing by Mrs. W. A. Confer.

Mrs. William L. Cosel discussed the margin bill up before the state legislature and suggested that it should be more widely used under present conditions, also that home-makers stress the use of enriched bread. Five states, she said, have laws requiring bakers to make bread of a certain standard of enrichment.

Plans for a public Town Meeting to discuss peace proposals were considered.

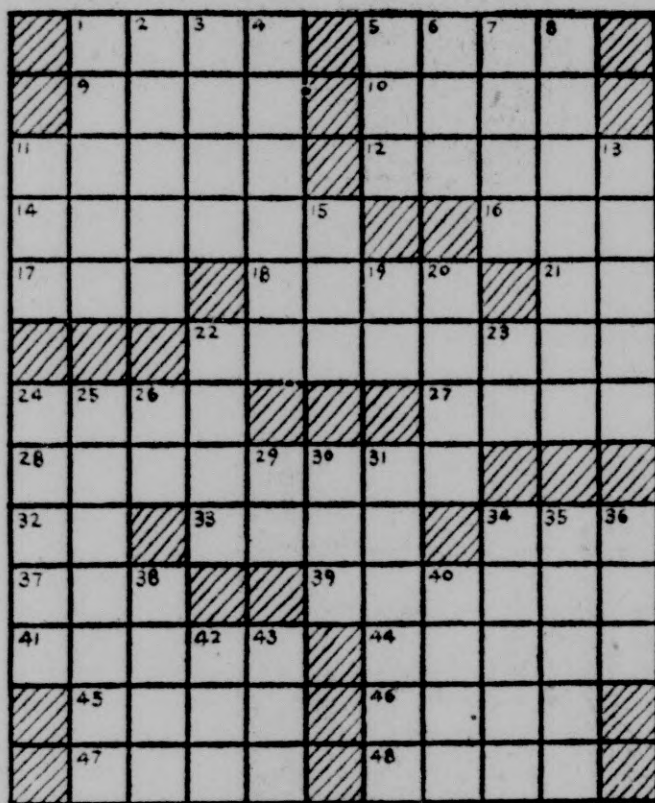

SHOWERS MONDAY, WEATHER OUTLOOK

Extended weather forecast March 31 through April 4, issued by the U. S. Weather Bureau at Harrisburg.

(distributed by International News Service) Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio—Showers Monday and probably again Wednesday. Little change in temperature today, but expected to average above normal for the season during the period.

Brussels Radio Says Third Army South Of Amberg

LONDON, March 31—(INS)—The London Evening News today quoted a Brussels radio broadcast—which was not confirmed—saying that spearheads of Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's third army had pushed to within nine miles south of Amberg, 38 miles from the Czechoslovakian frontier. If true, this report would place Patton's troops far east of Nuernberg.

Joe Baksi Wins Over Lou Nova In Garden Bout

Pennsylvania Heavy Wins Easily Over Clumsy Californian In New York

LOU NOVA JUST ABOUT WASHED UP

By LAWTON CARVER

(International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, March 31.—(INS)—

Any time James J. Johnston can't revive a corpse it is strictly a matter for the coroner.

The little man in the hard derby

hat has spent many of his years

picking up bums and making them fight when they thought they were through. Thus today those who know Johnston figure that somehow he may gather something out of the wreckage of Lou Nova. If Johnston can do anything with the big, ungainly Californian from here

out it will be a triumph for

Johnston and little to the credit of Nova who last night seemed to prove conclusive that he can't fight.

Joe Baksi, the green and awkward

Pennsylvania heavyweight, knocked

Nova's ears down around his heels in a 10-rounder at Madison

Square Garden, and left Johnston

non-plussed and speechless in the dressing room.

Baksi Won Easily

"Baksi deliberately butted Nova over the eye," Johnston screamed.

There was a silence. "Everybody that Ray Carlin seconds butts his opponent and cuts his face open,"

Johnston added in what was supposed to be white anger.

As a matter of fact, Baksi would have won the bout even if Nova hadn't been butted over the eye—or if he had over it as the case may be. Nova was soundly shellacked by a greenhorn and this should be the end of the Californian on the big time.

Promoter Mike Jacobs sure would have the effrontery to offer him

again as a main event contestant.

Baksi won a unanimous decision

from the two judges and the referee,

plus all the ringside experts and 14,094 customers who contributed

$46,394 to witness the encounter.

Bears And Barons

To Clash Tonight

Giants Happy As

Jurges Signs Up

LAKESIDE, N. J., March 31.—

(INS)—Fresh from defeating Indianapolis

in the second-place semifinal playoffs, the Hershey Bears will meet the Cleveland Barons ton-night in the first game of a best-of-seven series for the American

Hockey League crown.

The two clubs have met in the finals on two other occasions since the loop was organized seven years ago. During the regular season, the Bears and the Barons were declined in three contests while the Barons won three games and Hershey two.

BENTON WILL PITCH

EVANSVILLE, Ind., March 31.—

(INS)—With Al Benton making his second start of the spring training

season, the Detroit Tiger regulars will battle the Yankigans in an intra-squad game at Bosse field

today.

Benton is booked to pitch six innings in the nine-inning affair.

The Tigers plan to move to Terre Haute next Friday where they will finish their spring training.

JOE HUMPHRIES SIGNS

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., March 31.—

(INS)—Word that Pitcher Johnny Humphries had signed his '45

contract with the Chicago White

Sox left Manager Jimmy Dykes with but one holdout to worry about—

Pitcher Oral Grove.

Joe Orenzo, missing prospective

first baseman, is expected in camp

next week, solving another problem for Dykes.

HOPE FOR SUNSHINE

FRENCH LICK, Ind., March 31.—

(INS)—The Chicago Cubs were hopeful of getting out into the sunshine today after rain drove them indoors yesterday.

Despite the second straight workout in the hotel auditorium, Manager Charlie Grimm was definitely

"pleased" with the progress of his candidates.

NEW CASTLE NEWS SPORTS

New Welter Star

PRESENTING Jimmy Doyle, the California welterweight who has compiled a fancy record. Doyle, winner of nine bouts in the east after leaving his native Los Angeles, gets a hard test in his next bout when he meets the rising young Cleveland, Chuck Hunter, at the Cleveland Arena, Wednesday, April 4. Doyle has won 35 of 36 bouts. (International)

Indians Schedule Two Games Today

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., March 31.—

(INS)—Not only their first game of the season, but their first twin bill was on the schedule today for the Cleveland Indians.

Reined out of an exhibition tilt

yesterday with the soldiers of Chan-neville field on the University of Illinois diamond, the tribe planned to take on both the army and the university teams in a doubleheader

this afternoon.

MEANTIME, acting boss Spud Davis

started grooming an outfield composition for the season opener at Cincinnati two weeks from Tuesday.

At present, the trio of Colman-Russell-Barrett is holding down the secondary spots on defense. Davis was reported keenly eyeing Tommy

O'Brien, who is showing more polish in the field than at any time

in the two seasons he has been

with the Bucs.

The exhibition game with Bunker

Hill Navy Nine, scheduled for Mon-

day at Peru, Ind., has been canceled.

THIRTY-ONE HURT

In Trolley Wreck

At Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, March 31.—

(INS)—Thirty-one persons were injured today when a heavy freight

locomotive rammed a crowded trolley car in the Kensington section

of Philadelphia. The accident

brought to 33 the number of persons

hurt in trolley car accidents in the last 24 hours.

The trolley was pushed 15 feet off

its tracks as a shower of glass

rained on its passengers—most of them war workers enroute to their jobs.

Seven police vehicles and six private cars rushed the injured to

nearby hospitals, but no one was reported seriously hurt.

Members of the accident investigation squad were questioning a

watchman employed by the Reading

Co. to lower safety gates at the intersection, in an effort to determine the cause of the accident.

Col. J. C. "Bud" Frank, former

Penn State football, lacrosse and

boxing star, has been awarded the bronze star medal for meritorious

service in the China theatre. He has been overseas three years.

SPRING trials of the Shenango Valley Beagle club will begin at 8:30 a. m. tomorrow. The 13-inch class will be run at that time and at 1:30 p. m. the 15-inch class will be run. Winners will compete later at Saxonburg where the semi-finals will be staged and later the winners of the Saxonburg trials will vie for the North American Federation championship at New Philadelphia.

S-2 Ted Kozel is visiting his wife at 68 Bluff street, having been issued a 22 days furlough. He has been in the Pacific where he helped toss some hot shots at the Japs. Pirate Outfield - Will Be Strong

Manager Frankie Frisch Not Likely To Report To Muncie Training Camp

MUNCIE, Ind., March 31.—(INS)—

The Pirates today had word from

Frankie Frisch expressing doubt that he'll be able to report before the Bucs wind up training at the Muncie camp.

Meantime, acting boss Spud Davis

started grooming an outfield com-

position for the season opener at Cincinnati two weeks from Tuesday.

At present, the trio of Colman-Russell-Barrett is holding down the secondary spots on defense. Davis was reported keenly eyeing Tommy

O'Brien, who is showing more polish in the field than at any time

in the two seasons he has been

with the Bucs.

The exhibition game with Bunker

Hill Navy Nine, scheduled for Mon-

day at Peru, Ind., has been canceled.

THIRTY-ONE HURT

In Trolley Wreck

At Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, March 31.—

(INS)—Thirty-one persons were

injured today when a heavy freight

locomotive rammed a crowded trolley car in the Kensington section

of Philadelphia. The accident

brought to 33 the number of persons

hurt in trolley car accidents in the last 24 hours.

The trolley was pushed 15 feet off

its tracks as a shower of glass

rained on its passengers—most of them war workers enroute to their

jobs.

Seven police vehicles and six private cars rushed the injured to

nearby hospitals, but no one was

reported seriously hurt.

Members of the accident investigation squad were questioning a

watchman employed by the Reading

Co. to lower safety gates at the

intersection, in an effort to determine

the cause of the accident.

Col. J. C. "Bud" Frank, former

Penn State football, lacrosse and

boxing star, has been awarded the

bronze star medal for meritorious

service in the China theatre. He has been overseas three years.

NO CHANGE IN MARKET TODAY

Short Two-Hour Session Fails To See Any Changes Made In Majority Of Issues

NEW YORK, March 31.—(INS)—The stock market could very easily have carried its Good Friday holiday over to today for all the price changes made in the short two-hour session.

Volume was negligible as well. With the exception of Schenley which jumped better than 2 points at the opening, and then extended its gain to more than 3 on the spectacular jump in earnings for the last half year, price changes were purely nominal.

Rails, steel and oils showed advances of eighth and quarters. Some of the air manufacturing shares were slightly lower. Curb trading was dull.

Bonds were narrow.

Okinawa Island
Heavily Bombed

U. S. Carrier Task Force Causes Much Damage In Attack On Jap Island Chain

By ELGAR BROWN

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ABOARD ADM. MITSCHER'S

FLAGSHIP, March 28.—(Delayed)—

The Japanese bastion of Okinawa Island in the Ryukyu chain lay under a heavy pall of smoke in ominous silence today as planes and ships of this fast carrier task force attacked other islands as far north as Amami Oshima and as far east as Kikai.

A large Jap freighter-transport and fifteen small craft were sunk and an enemy destroyer badly damaged north of Amami Oshima, the second largest Ryukyu island, and where thirteen buildings and shops at the Komiya seaplane base and half the town were leveled in air raids.

Ranged Far And Wide

During the day our fliers ranged far and wide bombing, strafing and unloading rockets on warehouses, barracks shops and gun positions on Amami Oshima and other islands in the chain.

During the night the battleships added to the havoc in spirited bombardments.

Okinawa, the key island of the chain, and a slumbering giant of untested underground strength, was subjected to another pasting from the air but results are thus far undetermined because of the heavy smoke blanket covering the island.

Defense Strength Uncertain

The mystery of the strategic stronghold between Formosa and the Japanese homeland is as yet unfathomed. Troops still remain unseen from the air. They are believed to be crouching in well stocked caves and tunnels under orders to defend the island only in case of actual invasion.

Vice Admiral Marc Mitscher's latest far-flaring actions leaves Okinawa and its five airfields without hope of support from other Ryukyu bases. Airstrips on the northern and western islands are immobilized and Okinawa's naval and seaplane base has been wrecked to effectively hem in Okinawa.

Road To Berlin
Is Familiar To
Westminster Dean

Dr. John Orr Has Covered Most Of Territory Now Being Taken By Allies

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, March 31.—

The western road to Berlin over which American and Allied armies are today driving into the heart of Germany is as familiar to Dr. John Orr, Westminster College dean, as the many hills and valleys around New Wilmington.

From the summer of 1911 to the fall of 1913, Dean Orr was in Germany and other parts of western Europe, studying and traveling. He attended the University of Bonn for six weeks in that city recently captured by American troops and renowned as the birthplace of Beethoven.

North of Bonn, the Rhine river is a wide, sluggish stream in a flat valley, according to Dr. Orr. He compares it with the Ohio river flowing through Kentucky. Traveling up the Rhine, through more mountainous territory, the current becomes swifter, and although the stream is narrower, it is more difficult to cross.

Mainz, in the Third Army sector, reminds Dr. Orr of his famous museum where he saw several pieces of Roman bridge built by Julius Cæsar.

Wiesbaden, east of Mainz, in the wake of Patton's drive, is Europe's most famous health resort, noted for its hot baths, Dean Orr says. Remagen, point of the first American spearhead across the river, is still a clear picture to the Westminster professor, but the bridge over which Americans marched their first troops to the east bank of the Rhine was not there in 1911.

The American drive toward the Ruhr valley takes our soldiers into flat country, the industrial center of the Reich. Most of northern Germany is flat except for the Hartz mountain range in the central part, he pointed out.

"Fanning out around the mountain range to reach Berlin will probably be the next move of American forces," Dean Orr predicted.

SPRAY SEASON STARTS FOR

APPLE GROWERS

Information on the application of dormant sprays on Lawrence county orchards has been distributed to orchardists from the Agricultural Extension office, 206 Post Office building, New Castle, Pa.

Purpose of the sprays is to kill scale insects, aphid eggs, red mite eggs and to reduce early scab infection.

The spray service data, based upon information just received from extension entomologists and plant pathologists at the Pennsylvania State college, embrace procedures for large orchards and also for the small fruit grower.

Composition of these sprays is detailed in the instructions, a copy of which can be obtained from the Agricultural Extension office. As to the manner of application, the effectiveness of control depends upon the completeness of coverage.

This, in turn, depends upon the man handling the spray gun. Therefore, it is important to do the best job possible under prevailing conditions.

TREAT SEED OATS TO CONTROL SMUT AND LEAF BLOTCH

All seed oats should be treated before planting with new improved Ceresan. This treatment will control both smut and leaf blotch, and is easy to apply.

Several varieties of oats are resistant to smut, but some of them, including Vicland, may be attacked by leaf blotch, which may cause a reddish color. This disease appeared in parts of Pennsylvania in 1944 for the first time in many years.

One-half ounce of new improved Ceresan, which is a dust, mixed with each bushel of oats and permitted to stand for several hours will aid in the control of these two diseases. Plans for building a simple seed treater which will make the mixing easier, may be obtained from the Agricultural Extension office, 206 Post Office building, New Castle, Pa.

Purpose of the sprays is to kill scale insects, aphid eggs, red mite eggs and to reduce early scab infection.

Rain On Sunday Could Play Nasty Trick On Easter Hats

"What do you want to wager it'll rain Sunday?" is one of the most frequent and irritating remarks to be heard this week.

No doubt a shower on Easter could be considered an April fool trick, but it would be a pretty mean one. Just to be nasty, the person referred to as "the weather man" might cock an eye at some of the vegetation appearing on women's heads and decide that a little rain would be quite in order.

And promptly, instead of growing and blooming with the rain, the flowers would droop, the colors would run off the artificial grapes, and the veils would sag limply down the sides. For the hats which have been appearing in local shop windows and which will be appearing in churches throughout the city on Sunday morning, are rare and intricately-fashioned objects.

Some of them, though, are about as good as umbrellas themselves—especially the wide, flat ones with brims that turn down on the edge with inverted pagoda effect that invariably brings some comment such as "Here comes the Burma kid".

Fashion just hasn't been able to make up its mind this spring, and consequently there will be both the slick, trim ladies with neat felt hats and softly tailored suits with hats, and the hats which have the cavity romantic ones with great rose-colored ribbons instead of hats, or headresses which are little floral wreaths that might have been designed by Salvador Dali.

Rain would be altogether disastrous for gals in the latter group. They're liable to come to church fully equipped with umbrellas and head-scarves over their bright new suits, and their hair combinations of fruit-and-flowers-on-a-little-straw-plate tucked away in a box.

"What do you want to wager it'll rain?"

Hints On Etiquette

When a man and girl are engaged to be married, she refers to him as her fiancé, which is the masculine form; he speaks or writes of her as his fiancée, the feminine form; the two words are pronounced alike—fee-ahn-say.

RAY, MRS. MILLAND

TO TRY SEPARATION

HOLLYWOOD, March 31.—(INS)—Screen Star Ray Milland and his wife have decided upon a trial separation as a means of solving their marital difficulties. It was announced today by Mrs. Milland.

The actor's wife, the former Muriel Webber, a non-professional, issued a statement in which she said:

"Due to differences in temperament and divergent activities, Mr. Milland and I have decided upon a trial separation."

The Paramount star and Mrs. Milland were married 12 years ago. They have one son, Denny, age 5.

Newsprint Price

Is Boosted Again

WASHINGTON, March 31.—(INS)—The Office of Price Administration announces that manufacturers' ceiling prices for newsprint paper will be increased $3 per ton because of higher production costs for pulpwood.

The increase, effective today, will make the ceiling price $61 per ton for standard newsprint delivered to 38 "port cities".

There are separate ceilings for deliveries in ten specified zones, and these ceilings are also raised $3 per ton. The ceiling price for the No. 4 base zone will be $62 a ton, OPA said.

OPA said the increase is the first since Sept. 1, 1943, and third since price control was involved in March, 1942. The increased production costs, OPA added, has resulted in earnings for the U. S. newsprint industry below the normal peace time level, which required the $3 price boost.

OPA explained that all newsprint paper sold in the United States will be governed by the new ceilings.

Action was taken after consultation with the newsprint paper industry advisory committee, individual newspaper publishers and representatives of the Canadian wartime prices and trade board.

LOCAL AIRMAN IS BACK FROM ICELAND

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. William Alexander of 475 East Washington street that their son, Cpl. Clifford M. Alexander, has arrived at Norfolk, Va., from Iceland. He hopes soon to get 30 days furlough and visit with his parents.

Pfc. Alexander is groundman attached to the air corps and has been stationed for 17 months in that north land, and has been in the service 2½ years.
